Katrina,
See Amy's message below regarding ownership of the railroad section that goes through Wilcox.
I will find out who to address the access agreement to at the Stillwater Central Railroad.
Thanks

Todd,

<http://www.okladot.state.ok.us/hqdiv/p-r-div/maps/railroad/>

This map on ODOT's website shows that the line that goes through the Wilcox site is operated by the Stillwater Central Railroad. This is the same line that goes through the ORC superfund site. Amber sent them an access agreement for our ORC remedial design recently and they returned it signed. You can ask Amber for the contact info. The map does say that it is state owned, but <http://www.odot.org/SoonerSub/> has the final sale agreement that I am attaching that shows that the state sold the line to the Stillwater Central Railroad in 2014.

You might want to share this info with Katrina.
